Head of the Liftline

by Anne Benefield

Congratulations to our new Officers who will begin their term of office on May 1. Space City Ski Club is indeed unique in that we have so many capable people who are willing to give so much of their time and talent. I know we can look forward to a successful year.

Let me urge all of you to attend the April meeting. Appearing elsewhere in this issue are proposed By-Law Amendments which will be submitted to the vote of the membership at the regular meeting to be held April 14, 1982.

Article III, Section 6 of the By-Laws currently limits membership of the Club to 1,400 members. It is proposed that we may accept individuals as members after the 1,400 limit has been reached for that year only if they participate on a SCSC ski trip. In turn, this proposed amendment would promote membership in Space City Ski Club by skiers; we would receive revenue from dues which would otherwise go to another Texas Ski Council member club; and, it would clarify the right of SCSC skiers to race with and for Space City Ski Club at Texas Ski Council sponsored events.

Article III, Section 7 pertains to the membership renewal. Currently, membership renewal shall be by August 1. The proposed amendment would provide for membership renewals from May 1 through May 31, thus decreasing the "grace period" from four months to one month. Additionally, this proposal would allow for the membership term to coincide with the April 30 fiscal year of the Club; it would ease the Club's cash flow by providing the bulk of funds before lodging and airfare deposits are due; and, it would provide for a shorter period to determine who are and are not renewing their memberships. If passed, this proposed change will not take effect until April 30, 1983.

There is one other area of major concern. Over the past few years, costs have been rapidly escalating. The Club has been able to hold its dues stable over the last seven years through some artful management. However, with operating costs (printing, postage, etc.) increasing each year, we find ourselves in a position of not being able to cover these costs with our major sources of income — dues and advertising. Consequently, at the Board of Directors meeting on March 11, 1982, a resolution to amend the Standing Rules on Dues was adopted, increasing dues beginning with the 1982-83 season. It reads that "Dues shall be $20.00 per single person and $30.00 per married couple. A $5.00 processing fee will be charged on all new applications or those received after the deadline set in Article III, Section 7 of the By-Laws." Even with this dues increase, SCSC membership is about the best buy in the market. For these bucks, where else can you receive an excellent monthly publication, join in inexpensive activities throughout the year, make new friends (or enemies) and share a common interest — skiing?

This article is my last as President of the Club. (No cheers, please). It has been a pleasure for me and my fellow officers to serve you. I would like to extend a special thanks to the current Officers for their dedication and continued enthusiasm. I'm looking forward to turning over the gavel at the May meeting to your new President, Bruce Maughs.

THE TAOS TRIP

by Lynn Zacherl

Many of the Space City tribe boarding large yellow buffalo for trip up the mountain.

On February 2, seventeen warriors and twelve squaws from the Space City Tribe boarded great silver Southwest bird for land of the great ski mountain...TAOS. Firewater ran freely from the Southwest bird, but hunting was limited to roasted peanuts. Head squaw on silver bird immediately noted that Donna Miller was known to the tribe as Foxy Lady and Ed Williams was Running Man.

Once on the bus and on the way to TAOS, the whole tribe cratered. Everyone was ready to ski the first day, as part of the sacrifice to the great snow God. Hirsch Scholl skis for $5. a day...the Snow God's sacrifice to senior tribe members. David Kee, Pam Phillips and Donna Miller followed ski school warriors up mountain and down mountain, most of it on their skis. Several tribe members rented cars rather than take large yellow buffalo to the mountain. Trubee Beebe discovered Taos Indians speak with backwards tongues when working at rental car agencies.

The Snow Gods were pleased by our performance. It started snowing Wednesday afternoon. The Sagebrush Teepee had large tub with hot water—old tribal members called it a "hot tub." Leslie Holmes even had a ceremonial outfit of large mink coat over bright blue gown to be worn to this watering hole. Peggy Bailey swore she saw Space City Indians in there with no clothes on. The Gods were unfortunately angry with Dale Albritton; they caused the leg of his ski pants to be caught under rear tire of moving car—if that was a warning, it worked!

Morning dawned—sorta— thru the continuing blizzard and 26" of new snow on the great mountain. Phillip Larson and Karen Peterson opted to well...not ski. Skiing in a blizzard is not all bad. It's warmer, and if need be, you can go to a costume party as the Abominable Snowperson. In the midst of all this, Felix Smith convinced Carolyn that this was her day to try skiing...she never could convince him to stay in the bar at night. Doris Hemsworth, Frank Riesenberg, Daisy Miller and Derek Hankins continued forward through the powder. Mike Gay continued forward too, until he ended up with the powder a foot over his head and his skis somewhere under him. Bill Risinger, David Nugent, Jo Beth Isham and Lynn Zacherl found that New Mexico Indians fight Texas Indians with snow packers...they aim at you on the slope when you're stuck up to your waist in powder and honk the horn for you to move. Whatever happened to bows and arrows?

Friday dawned— really— through almost 4 feet of new snow and cold weather. John Brooks found some help with both the snow and the cold with a member of a New Jersey tribe. Arthur Beebee suited up, but did anyone see him ski? Arlen Ishem, Ed and Elaine Barnett skied up to the bitter end. The chief of the Taos Mountain, Ernie Blake, came to the wine and cheese party and told us this was the best skiing in 20 years. Phillip Larson told us it was the flu, not firewater that was making him sick..

The prime rib dinner that night featured Cajun tribe member Tim Mitchell telling old tale of Cinderella Beadreaux— Indians laughed.

As the great silver bird made three stops before leaving us in Houston everyone returned from the mountain with memories of the best snow ever and knowing that Space City Indians are among the bravest anywhere.

BRECKENRIDGE

by Margaret Norris and Jo-Anne Weaver

A wine and cheese break on the slopes: Sarah Daniels, Vic Lucas, Clarice Coffey, Arlene Veach, Dan Henkel, Bob Niel and Chris Lacke.

Looking back, 34 adventurous SCSC'ers arrived at Intercontinental Airport on Saturday, February 13 slated for a week of skiing in the heart of Colorado Summit area — Breckenridge!

The week started off with several avid ski-enthusiasts, Pete Puelo and Chris Lacke hitting the slopes on Saturday, then everyone topping the evening off with a wine and cheese party, compliments of the Beaver Run Condos. After settling into the condos, Pat Emerson and Jo-Anne Weaver volunteered out of the goodness of their hearts to move to the men's condo, so that all the guys could have single beds (Momma didn't raise no fool).

Valentine's Day came and went with memories to especially be remembered by Sarah Daniels who expressed that she needed a medal for making it down the mountain that day. Well, she got her medal, when beau Dan Henkel presented her with an engagement ring that evening. Their wedding is scheduled for July 3 in her home town in Virginia. Good luck to Sarah and Dan.

Pat Emerson had a one day fling on crutches after going for the moguls. Meanwhile, a tribute needs to be given to Tiger Run (located in the back bowls of Breckenridge) where there were those who did and those who did not. Linda Crawford decided to try a head first dive, SCSC style; while Lisa Milam (a green snowball on the back bowls), who did not realize she was on Tiger Run, called the ski patrol to help her down the mountain.

Dan Krock discovered the greener grasses of Houston and the top of the mountain at Breckenridge were two different things. No wonder he took up snowmobiling and photography.

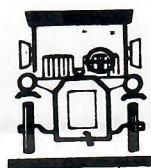

Clarice Coffey, Vic Lucas, Diane Jackson, Arlene Veach, Bob Truly, Ann Brod, Harry Gaston, Linda Crawford, Jane and Blaise Guerrero, Rudy Guerrero and Sue and Howard Klein found a wine and cheese party on the mountain presented by Summit Skiwear an enjoyable break in their day of skiing on Monday.

What do you mean — ski the moguls?? Bobbie Cordray, Don and Paula Moye.

Tuesday evening 28 Texans turned Coloradians partook of the sleigh rides. Two 16-carriage horse-driven sleighs guided us up the Lower Lehamn run to heated tents where all enjoyed a steak dinner served with all the trimmings. Paul Konecny and Vic Lucas have learned the real meaning of yellow snow (or have you heard of green snow) derived from the pooper scooper stop to and from our journey.

On Wednesday, a champagne and popcorn party was given; while Bobbie and David Cordray celebrated their 4th wedding anniversary. Bob Niel led the rest of the group to takeover the Flip Side Lounge afterwards where a chug-a-lug contest entertained Blaise Guerrero, Bob Niel, Harry Gaston, Rudy Guerrero and Margaret Norris. Who told the DJ that she did not drink all of her Schnapps?

Clarice Coffey excelled in skiing the fastest down the mountain at 12:15 every afternoon in order that she could watch her soap opera — As the World Turns. Chris Lacke, meanwhile, got all the other beginners together at the bottom of A-Lift. Those that participated in her excursion to the top included Arlene Veach, Joanne Weaver, Sue Klein, Paul Konecny, and Diane Jackson.

Mike Flash and Jeff Hoffpauir monitored the flow of traffic to the hot tubs (located on the second floor of the condos) by bombarding the tubs from their room on the eighth floor with snowballs.

As Pat Emerson and Dan Henkel mastered making fireplaces every evening, Harry Gaston religiously woke Rudy Guerrero up with messages from "Ilene". Who is "Ilene"? Vic Lucas also received messages from "Ilene". Who is "Ilene"?

Howard Klein, Blaise Guerrero, Harry Gason and Rudy Guerrero demonstrated how to freeze your tush off, while Margaret Norris took her time adjusting her flash on her camera.

Did you know Paul Konency skied the blue slope? One "attaboy" goes to you, Paul!

The slopes of Keystone endured the trials and tribulations of Vic Lucas, Dan Henkel, Sarah Daniels, Arlene Veach, Chris Lacke, Pat Emerson, Bob Niel, Dianne Jackson, Clarice

Coffey, Ron Steiger, Bob Steffey and Pete Puelo; meanwhile, Bob Truly and Ann Brod triumphed at Vail and Copper Mountain with some fancy footwork.

Pete Puelo introduced us to the finest Mexican food on this side of the border. (?!??)

Then there was a tall, good looking stranger (?) Joanne Weaver met at the hot tubs. Funny thing was, she left to go back to an emergency at work the next day. We really believe you, Joanne!

Jeff and Denise Hoffpauir were seen mooning Don Moye while Paula Moye and Peggy Flash looked on in dismay when Don mooned back at Jeff and Denise.

Familiar faces seen were Mike and Brenda Boland and Pat and Diane McLaughlin.

NASTAR RACERS: Howard Klein, Harry Gaston, Linda Crawford and Bob Truly.

David and Bobbie Cordrey went into the time machine.

BELOW: ATC: Jo-Anne Weaver.

A little brew in the bubbly — Paul Konecny and Jane Guerrero.

Clarice Coffey and Bob Niel led the group in demonstrating with the stewardesses demo procedures on the plane in an attempt for more freebies, but when all else failed, the group resorted to a rowdy ending as we approached landing in Houston with a revengeful, yet victorious pillow fight which left the stewardesses in a grand stupor.

Special thanks are especially extended to Mac Marbury of Wescott Drive Inn (next to Memorial Park) for donating beer and to Tommy Baker of Coca Cola Bottling Company for donating cokes for our trip.

VAIL I

by Karen Friedsam and Steve VanPelt

John McGowan, Franz Franz, Debbie Ball (hidden), Cecil Smith, Susan Feltner, Karen Friedsam, Ed Rubenstein, Hugh Hodges and Tom.

Mornings start early on the first day of a ski trip, especially when you start in Galveston. A small army from the "Island City" invaded Houston Intercontinental Airport to join ten other hardy souls for the 7:00 a.m. departure. Rose Carpinteyro had an all-night vigil anxiously awaiting her first ski trip. After settling in for the long ride, Rose was found to be fast asleep (and we were not even off the ground).

In Denver, we boarded two "custom" vans sans restroom to Vail. The weather in Denver was sunny but cold. At our pit stop in Silverthorne, we quickly found out how cold. (How cold was it?) It was so cold that the plumbing was frozen. In fact, a few people complained of frostbite in the strangest places.

At the arrival cocktail party later that day, everybody seemed satisfied with their condos. Jim Franz was trying to pay for his trip by renting out his master bedroom for $100/hour. The price seemed a little high until it was discovered it included champagne and a fireplace. Later in the evening, John and Cindy McGowan (newlyweds) and Mike and Susan Feltner were trying to arrange a compromise deal since the cold water in the bathroom was frozen. Rose, in a style all her own after inspecting the "great master bedroom deal", warned that pigeon sounds better not be heard coming from that room. Ed Rubenstein brought his friend Tom to join us to celebrate our arrival. We also had a "Focus on Vail" program given by a representative from Vail and one from Beaver Creek. They came over to answer questions about both mountains and to inform us about the various scheduled events for the week.

The next day everybody was ready to hit the slopes. Beginning skiers, Debbie Ball, Susan and Rose enrolled in ski school and lived to tell about it. The lift lines were surprisingly short, so it was possible to get in a lot of skiing. The heated outdoor swimming pool brought much relief to our sore tired bodies after a hard and long day.

Joyce and Len Jones, Diane Bertrand, Kelly Roberts, Charles Ottinger and Rose Carpinteyro.

Charles Ottinger and Cecil Smith headed for Beaver Creek's even less crowded slopes to preview the new mountain for the rest of us. Skiing at Vail was getting warmer every day. Hugh Hodges, Len and Joyce Jones, Diane Bertrand and Kelly Roberts were enjoying the snow and sun near Lionshead. Stopping at a local watering hole, Donovan's, for a quick apres-ski refreshment prepared us for a wine and cheese party given by the Mountain Haus. The party took place at their new restaurant, "Alain's". Karen Friedsam, Cindy Wolma, Tim and Belinda Parker, Jim Franz and Debbie Ball were found singing along with the strangest songs.

Beaver Creek was 2°F and had 20 mph winds which found Tim and Belinda Parker, John and Cindy McGowan, Mike and Susan, Debbie, Karen, Jim and Steve VanPelt in the warming hut at the top of the mountain. A flask of scotch appeared with amazing warming properties. Needless to say, everybody decided to ski in the protected areas of the mountain. Skiing at Beaver Creek was a very pleasant experience. The employees were friendly and a great help in directing everyone around the mountain. Len and Joyce, Diane, Kelly, Hugh, Cecil and Charles made Beaver Creek their regular ski mountain.

The spaghetti dinner that followed back in Vail brought everyone together to compare war stories. Belinda and Susan were explaining the various uses of a "teddy" especially in cold weather. Karen objected, saying that her red and white striped pajamas complete with feet were much more practical. This argument was followed by just how Diana injured her thumb and why Cindy Wolma had trouble sitting down.

The skiing was great. There was a powder day in which one could find two to three feet of fluffy stuff in the back bowls. John and Mike enjoyed the challenges of fresh powder but found the snow snakes out in force. To uphold the SCSC tradition, Jim Franz and Steve VanPelt won NASTAR medals.

The last night at Vail, a left-over party emptied out everyone's refrigerators of extra wine, cheese and chips.

Hugh Hodges, Len Jones, Diane Bertrand, and Joyce Jones.

The party soon became a showplace for all sorts and kinds of jokes. Cindy Wolma was awarded the best joke award. Later that night, the Mountain Haus was awakened by the fire alarm. The alarm was not very loud and several people slept through the noise. We did find it valuable to read the escape plan before you need it. As it turned out, there was not a fire.

After a morning of shopping and skiing, we were loaded on two more "custom" vans to return to Denver. We made an unscheduled stop at the Quebec Street exit when one of the vans ran out of gas. The passengers transferred, with the skis, onto the remaining van for the short trip to the airport. We caught up with Len, Joyce, Diane and Kelly who had spent the morning in Denver shopping. Everyone got on the plane safely and enjoyed a good flight back to Houston.

Even though the group was small, the enjoyment was quality, the snow was great, and the fun fantastic!

Friday night's TSC Awards party at the Paragon topped off the week with two hours of free wine, beer, and half priced drinks. SCSC discovered that even two golds (Sy Liebergot, John MacDonald), three silvers (Kenneth Artz, Ray Naudain, Jim Plummer), and eleven bronze medals (Tania An- drasko, Jim Benefield, Bill Brown, John Echols, Stan Ferguson, Brock Fiege, Don Hill, Don McCutchen, Ken Moredock, Pat Webster, and Norm Taylor), were not enough to beat Austin Skiers, who edged us out by only a few points. (Just wait 'til next year, Austin!) Norm nearly collapsed in surprise when his name was called out for a bronze, and we were especially proud of John and Sy, who had handicaps of 16 and 12, respectively - pretty good, when you consider that the pacesetter's handicap was a 7! Teresa Brown, Merrilyn Echols, and Debbie Fiege were seen beaming over their husbands' bronzes. Leon and Theresa Apostolo and Don Hill had been disappearing and reappearing throughout the week and Don Hill was not even there to pick up his bronze - where did you keep going off to?

Saturday came and we were all sadly waiting for the buses to take us back to Denver and our plane to Houston. All, that is, but John Echols. Wife Merrilyn had found a book of lift tickets earlier in the week and turned them in. Her good deed was rewarded with a one day lift ticket which John promptly used. (By the way, John was a former member of the Clear Lake Area Ski Club who was able to get an SCSC membership via his marriage to Merrilyn).

When the return bus was stopped for a three car accident on Highway 70, Bruce Maughs wanted to get off and pass out his lawyer cards to the accident victims. Luckily, the bus driver wouldn't open the door. We did hear via the C.B. radio that one bus was offering the help of a doctor who was on the bus. Since the only doctor we knew of was Bennie Wright, our first concern was his condition!

A few final comments garnered during the long return bus ride: Jeff Levin claims that skiing while hung over allowed him to experiment with wild, corkscrew maneuvers while flat on his back ... Ken Moredock was fast enough to get a NASTAR bronze medal, but was always last to get on the bus, last to return to his condo, last to get on the plane, etc. ... Charles Colby ranked doing the Gator with Janice, Pat, Dixie, and Bennie on a par with skiing the Big Burn ... High point for Bob Bossung was finding out he could ski Aspen Mountain with no problems, while for Fred Wright it was the NASTAR clinic ... Fred's condo mates were particularly pleased with his culinary ability, especially with eggs with

UNIQUE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

Only You Can Decide What You Want Out Of Life

IF I could show you a way to acquire or retire with a permanent income of over $2,000.00 a month within the next three years, would you be interested?

Are you familiar with multi-level marketing, like Mary Kay, AMWAY, Tupperware, Sarah Coventry, etc.? Had you started as a distributor with these firms in their 1st year and grown with them, you would be a millionaire today. Because of Product, this is a better opportunity and perfect for part-time operation.

Would you agree that dairy products are used by everyone and are going up in cost constantly?

cheese breakfasts ... Steve Peters claims he got that earful of snow when wife Jana tripped him up while getting off the chair lift, and Jana was ever so thankful for the jacuzzi for those many bumps, bruises and strains ... One week in Aspen changed the incredible Vander Linds from "Tooter to Hooter" (what does that mean?) ... Pat Tristan proved her 20/20 vision beyond a shadow of a doubt by spotting the largest number of gold Rolexes on guys' wrists under the most strained conditions ... in dark bars with their hands in their pockets!... Kurt "Crash" Kelsch earned his nickname after he disappeared over a bump in the snow. As his ski "buddies" tried to catch up, they passed two skis and two poles, each about 10 yards apart. John Stumph was heard to say that "Crash's" spectacular distance would have made Carl Lewis's long jump record look like child's play. We understand that "Crash" had a little "inseam" problem when he was getting fitted for a pair of $350 stretch pants at the Mogul shop by the female shop owner ... Pat Baldwin was seen at the Tipler, where she entered the place like a librarian, dropped all inhibitions and left as a Go-Go dancer. She out-Pogoed the locals!... and Kathy Bellis couldn't get into Chisholm's one night because she didn't have her I.D. with her! ... ATC Bob Basch was flabbergasted when he saw the quantity of liquid refreshments consumed by the group. He was positive he ordered enough to take care of the crowd at Gilleys for at least a week ... Suzanne Siegel set a record by not buying anything 'til the last day, but kept her reputation intact by spending all their money in two hours on Saturday.

Elizabeth Braun said it all in her final comment to Debbie Assad, as we landed in Houston. "Well, I guesst it's back to reality, now. You don't suppose I could put it off any longer if I ran back to the back of the plane, do you?"

And to all SCSC'ers — always remember — someday, somewhere, when you least expect it, Janice Jamail may come up to you and say, "Shoo-be-do-dah, shoo-be-do-dah!"

By the way - it turns out that those exercises Joe Assad was practicing while skiing on his back apparently had something to do with the "La Moms" technique, or maybe it was the "La Pops" version. Debbie is now running around happy to announce she and hubby Joe still share the same last name (in our last episode she was considering taking her own name back), as well as a joyous "blessed event" due in October. Aspen must have been one of the most productive trips of the season!

Picnic'ers: Greg Dupuis, Holli Pretli, Brenda and Mike Boland with many other Aspen SCSC'ers.
