head of the liftline

by Bob Allgeier

Ah Spring! Even now plans for the summer are firming nicely under the control of a newly emerging group of volunteers, that heady enthusiasm of the untried but true (which is the main thing that keeps this Club so gung-ho), and a gaggle of new officers who are also (already) at work on next winter's trips and functions.

But wait! There is still an inordinate amount of perfectly good snow in Utah and Colorado! Combine a winter's pile-up of snow with some great looking sunshine and why hang up the skis just yet? Starting about now, you can ski without getting cold. We ought to all go at least one more time so why not drag out that old old lame string bikini and sign up? For one, Park City in late March looks very nice but there are Steamboat, Vail, and Banff left on the schedule too. Step right up!

This ski season has been exceptionally blessed among those of the last few years. It has been cold on the hill from time to time but snow conditions have been spectacular over all. Further, the good snow is probably primarily responsible for the reduced numbers of injuries sustained this year. There have been a few, and some bad, but it looks like the season may finish with a record-setting reduction in numbers of injuries per skier-day. Good going folks!

The administrative part of the Club's operation has marked an end to an old and unpleasant issue. A couple of years ago, a member stopped payment on a check made out to cover a Club ski trip, after the final payment date, and a running gun-battle ensued. That is, the Club sued. Last month, the courts put a goodly chunk of cash back in the Treasury and we can file that one. It took a lot of time off and hard work for several members, so thanks, you-all-whodunit from all of us members who needed it done.

Other thanks and ra-ra's go to the Bylaws Committee whose efforts appear in this issue for your consideration. The Bylaws voting will occur at the April General Meeting while the run-off election for the post of Vice-President of Publications will be held at the March General Meeting. Don't forget now. I won't again forget to bring the First Place Trophy from Texas Ski Week either.

Speaking of committees, the Travel and the Scrapbook Committee now have their quota of volunteer members and have begun work. Thanks to you all too and good luck!

Finally, still in the plaudits category, thanks go to our many fine advertisers who deserve your special attention. Without them, the sitzmarke would be an old mimeographed rag (full of literary junk like this) so support them if you can.

NOMINEES FOR VICE PRESIDENT - PUBLICATIONS

Roy A. Nice

Vice President - Publications

Photograph Not Available

Roy has been selected as the Nominating Committee's candidate for Vice President - Publications. A graduate of the University of Texas, Roy currently works as a Sales Representative for Sony Business Products. He has been an active member of SCSC for four years serving as Assistant Trip Chairman for the 1977 Aspen Christmas trip and Trip Chairman for this season's Thanksgiving outing to Park City, Utah. Roy has also written articles for the Eatzmarke column in the sitzmarke. As Vice President - Publications, Roy will maintain the excellence achieved by SCSC publications while actively participating in the decision-making role of Executive Committee member.

Qualifications of both nominees for this position were considered in depth by the Nominating Committee. Their selection undoubtedly reflects the individual most capable of leading the Club through another successful year. Roy is sure you will attend the March meeting and consider this when confirming officers for the upcoming ski season.

Beth Nolen

Vice President - Publications

Beth originally joined SCSC in 1970, subsequently spent three years in Dallas, and rejoined upon her return to Houston; next season will be her seventh year of active participation. During her membership she has taken Club trips to Park City, Banff, Vail, Aspen, and Copper Mountain. Beth has served as a trip chairman for two years, worked on the membership registration committee, was Markemaker columnist, worked on the Summer Bash for two years, co-chaired Mercer's first campout, and worked with Gene Turboff on last year's Beaux Bridge trip. Non-ski participation has included

Sonoma Vineyards Wine Tasting Party, the Renaissance Festival, Bavarian Gardens Oktoberfest, club tennis matches, summer softball, ice skating parties, canoe trips, and the Big Bend raft trip.

Beth has work experience in fields varying from CPA secretarial to analytical financial and is presently employed in the Treasury Department of Tenneco Oil Company. She feels that each of these fields will lend an important phase of knowledge (ranging from budgeting to proofing and editing) for the efficient management of our Club's publications.

OPEN MID-OCTOBER

by Judy Combs and Jim Plummer

Following Aspen Traditional trips known as the year of "the dirt" and the year of "the rock", the 1979 trip might aptly be termed the year of "the snow". The Aspen weather director spent the first three weeks of January piling up sixty inches of base and then brought out the sun to greet the SCSC Traditionalists. Seventy-seven SCSC skiers and one stow-away (Mary Iris Webre) left Houston on January 20th, on Continental Airlines to Denver. After being told there would be no meals served, Joe Chernow, Lisa Freihoff, Jim Baker and Marilyn Geller ate at the airport only to discover that breakfast was served twice-on the way. A short stop at Applejacks and everyone settled in for the bus trip to Aspen. Warren Cross, Alice Collie, Lyn Johnson, and Chris Gebelin kept the bus trip lively and active. What's this we hear about Becky Usher having some difficulties on the bus? Bill Krell was the first to go skiing ... down a staircase with his luggage.

Sunshine and snow made Sunday a fantastic day for skiing. - John and Devosha Gay, Bob and Carol Graham, and John Galloway are some of our group that enjoyed the first day of skiing at Aspen's four fantastic mountains - Ajax, Highlands, Snowmass, and Butter-milk. The Superbowl was watched by Tom Mercer, Joe Cotrone, Jim Plummer, and Stan Ferguson at Little Nells. All merged that night for a get acquainted wine party in the Chateau Dumond's party room. Monday's weather was a reverse of Sunday's ... "cold and snowy". Many were seen enjoying the bars at the respective ski areas, for warming purposes, that is. Jim Smith clicked pictures all over Snowmass. Ronnie Albert, Joe and Paula Selle, Ken Moredock, Jim and Elaine Turner, and Carl Mitchell sampled Aspen's fine restaurants that evening.

Highlands hosted a wine and cheese picnic on Tuesday. We were entertained by a jumping demonstration by the ski patrol. Tom Mercer performed some of his own aerials that day, one resulting in a double release. Ellie Stern, Margaret Armbruster, Helen Snyder, and Ruby Summers hosted a party that evening. Jim Hendrix, Bill McDaniel, Dale Lehman, Marvin Sondock, John Potter and Judi Hendrix were seen enjoying the party and company. Drinking and dancing at Highland's Christain Endeavor were Felipe Yanes, Mary Iris Webre, Frances Kerr, Butch Webre, and Judy Combs. Frances was heard to remark about the lack of grace in dancing in ski boots. Joe Cotrone proved that no matter how the pizza, he can cook more than can be consumed.

Gail Quenneville, Debbie Mylius, and Janelle Bauer cooked a country breakfast for the crew on Wednesday morning. Tom Dishberger injured his achilles tendon but was able to make a few runs on Friday. Thursday was another sunny day. John Phillips was seen riding the lift down after his pack hooked on the chair. Bruce Maughs decided that ski brakes were'n't so hot after climbing fifty yards up Jackpot and Silver Queen to recover the lost skis. A cocktail party was held Thursday night. Ken Kuykendall, Larry Scarbrough, Alan Bitzer, Mike Hill, Marcia Fisher, and Gary Lafour were observed mixing and mingling at the party. David Trojanowsky, Burnes Turner, Paul Wright, Kathy Ubanoski, Richard Maxwell and Larry Satterwhite enjoyed Aspen's night life.

Tom Oliphint required the services of a seamstress when he ripped his ski pants twice. Charlie Epps was voted most likely to be shot by an irrate husband, Now what does that mean, Charlie? Stan Ferguson won a silver medal in NASTAR races at Highlands. - Janelle Bauer won a bronze medal. Many of our group relaxed in the jacuzzi after a hard day of skiing. Regulars were Bruce Maughs, Jim

Smith, and Jim Hendrix. John and Patti Phillips demonstrated how to roll in the snow and dive quickly into the pool. Seen making their last runs on Friday were Ken Cary, Ron Boehm, Gloria and Ken Peacock and Al and Margarita Bass. Keith Chunn finally bought a pair of apres ski boots after sliding around Aspen all week in cowboy boots. Making one last run on Friday night to the Cheshire Cat and the Tippler were Butch Webre, Frances Kerr, Harvey Mayln, Jay Castille, Jim Plummer, Gail Quenneville, Judy Combs, David Walter, and Gerry Haggerman.

Jethro Wilner found the quickest way to get luggage from the second floor to the loading area; he tossed it out the window. Beverly Fecel played spot the elk on the bus back to Denver. Were all those animals really elk, Bev? Jay Castille felt so bad that there were no accidents on the trip that he decided to have an appendicitis attack on the bus. Warren Cross diagnosed the discomfort and escorted him back to Houston on a later but quicker flight. Bill Kress, almost missed the plane when he got sidetracked in the airport bar, but he redeemed himself with all those lovely road to Denver pictures.

After stops in Kansas and Oklahoma, we finally arrived in Houston. For David and Susan Ramsey, there was a slight wait for the local parking bus before they could begin their trip to Lake Jackson. We're glad that Ellie recovered from her attack of shyness and singlehandedly conquered Aspen. Many thanks to Bruce Maughs, Tom Mercer, Stan Ferguson, Jim Smith and John Phillips for handling the baggage in Denver. This is one group of Aspen Traditionalists that is ready to return to Aspen!!

THE trip of the year ... Chamonix

by Jim McIntyre

Space City Ski Club's best trip of the year is often open to question, depending upon who went where ... but not this year! Ask anyone of the thirty-four who made the majestic trip to Chamonix, France to ski the highest Alps in Europe. Everyone was early for our flight to Chicago, and all went well including our entourage's two mile walk through O'Hare to the international terminal, in Chicago. Soon after boarding Air France's flight to Paris, there was a mad scramble for all empty seats so you could stretch out for the eight hour flight.

We arrived Saturday night in Chamonix and, as usual, the hotel had oversold, and we were short three rooms. All of the arguments known to man could not persuade them to call the manager. The French were momentarily victorious. They then passed out meal tickets, which we insisted we were not entitled to, and again the French were victorious. Two days later they realized their mistake and took up all of our meal tickets and asked for a refund of all tickets used; we balked and pointed out that it was their mistake. Space City Ski Club was victorious. The rest of our relations with the hotel were monotonously fantastic.

On Monday, Chuck and Eleanor Beardsley went to the top of the needle (12,600') to take in the scenery and take pictures. Their only problem was they forgot to load the camera and thought they took thirty-six pictures.

One night, sixteen late night eaters arrived at the Hotel Mont Blanc shortly before closing, and insisted upon being served, despite glaring glances from the maitre d'. All had a superb meal, and when we paid the "addicion" the restaurant had been closed for over an hour. On our walk back, we took a short-cut down a dark alley, and suddenly a car, with bright lights glaring, appeared and roared past us, sending everyone scrambling to the walls of the building. Linda Murphy's comment was "It was only the maitre'd!"

Art Glenn's comment best describes our shower facilities ... "When you take a shower you must hug the wall" ... Art's wife Letitia was so overwhelmed by the culture that she fed her glove to a dog. Letitia's parents Walt and Betty Finn joined us in Chicago and enjoyed the trip except that Betty lost her glasses before reaching Chamonix and lost her gloves one day at lunch. We suspect she gave them to Letitia for feeding the dog.

We had some interesting characters on our trip, such as Hirsch Scholl who couldn't pass a pastry shop, Roger Holzman who called for "Le Douche" thinking it was the check, Steve Kroger who washed his hair in the "other toilet", Lee Bollinger who searched for skiers at 7:30 every morning, Joe Garner who paid $6.00 for a beer at a disco and Arnold Tauch who fell off a cliff while skiing.

Not everyone stayed in Chamonix all of the time as Arnold, Jim Guild, Jim Keatts and Janet Nelson investigated Paris thoroughly, including The Lido and The Crazy Horse. Later in the trip, Arnold left again, but this time with Barbara Stine and Diane Schowe, to tour the French Riviera for two days.

While Judith Bel, Pat Burchett and Marsha McNeese were skiing main street with Chuck Kotyrba and Chuck's favorite sweaty horse, a group went to see the sights of the needle (top of the Alps). Jim McIntyre lectured at length about not losing the tram ticket. Guess who had to stick close to Carl Gautschi, who speaks French, on the way down because he lost his ticket.

One of the best stories of the trip is when Lotty Gautschi had a problem on the slopes and had to head for the trees. Carl claims she is "Saint Lotty" because at just the right moment, a cloud descended from heaven until all was taken care of.

Terry Chamness had his brother join him for the week, but they declined to join the monster snowball fight at midnight in the city park. Some of the participants were John Vetter, Barrett Penick, Dan Henkel and Joe Murphy.

Jim and Carlyne Kelley and Daisy Mitchell probably skied as much as anyone did. Ann McIntyre became an expert in the art of flush and rise, but her best stories are about the rest rooms in Italy.

The best quote of the trip came from Roger "le flash and splash" Holzman ... "Le Toro X Cr Mont" and that is mostly what we got from the French.

january skating party

by Jo-Anne Weaver

A great time was had by all at the Town and Country Ice Haus the evening of January 28th. Many participants had "imbibed" earlier that day at Bob and Bobbette's wedding festivities and were primed for the ice - if they fell - they felt NO pain!

Mo Granda took over George Hirasaki's reputation as "Kamikaze" for the evening as he buzzed about the crowd. (Later that week Mo was heard to remark, "Was I there that night?")

Newcomer Marlane Caravella trustingly stepped out on the ice with Gene Turboff, (trustingly?) but halfway around, Gene confessed this was only his third time on skates. Marlane suddenly lost her confidence but was rescued and guided to safety by skating pro Pete Dooley. (an ex varsity hockey player!) By the way Gene, several folks have commented that your technique has improved ... ice skating technique, that is!

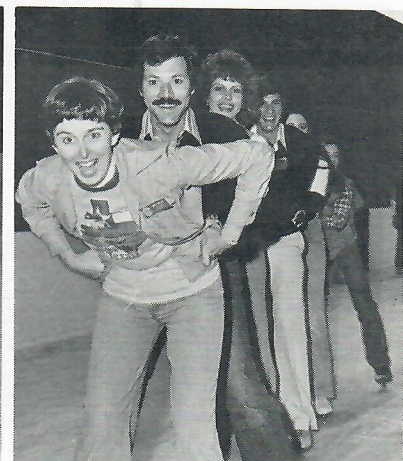

Some of our club's outstanding athletes including Judy Stringer, Tom Mercer, Chuck Dutton, Vicki Schmid, Bill Krell, Judy Allen, Tiny Arthur and Randy White were seen gliding about on the ice and partaking in the events. None other than Barry Kumins took charge - complete in coat and tie, (sans skates) he ran the games which included races, broom hockey and a "juicy" game of pass the orange - which they passed with their teeth - pity the last in line! I understand a few necks were "accidentally" bitten instead of the orange. Well, accidents do happen.

George Hiraskai and Lou Schultz glided about as our roving photographers, catching many of us in some rather ungainly poses. George was also seen testing the ice to see if it was possible to crack it - with his head ... feeling better now, George?

Shirley Andries was seen wearing Dave Reitze's shoes in lieu of skates, and was also seen gliding across the ice in a makeshift sleigh.

Hot spiced punch was served while everyone was out on the ice - many assumed it was spiked and deceived themselves into thinking they were getting progressively "tipsier". Fooled you, eh? The hot wine was later made available in the party room along with cheese and crackers, as folks wearily struggled in to unwind.

Were there any talent scouts from Holiday on Ice snooping about that night, I have only this to say, "Dorothy Hamill, have no fear, you've retained your title yet another year!"
